Dear Colleague,

As a meeting planner, I have hired speakers for many years. Over that time, I have repeatedly contracted Randall Munson. He is unquestionably one of the most versatile, refreshing and reliable speakers I have ever booked.

Whether delivering an energizing keynote, an in-depth business presentation or moderating an executive panel discussion, Randall always captivates the audience. He connects with everyone from the CEO to the newest employee. This ability to connect with people allows Randall to successfully relay each message he presents.

Randall is a gift to meeting planners - a true professional who is easy to work with.

I enthusiastically recommend Randall Munson as a first-class speaker who will delight, inform, and inspire your audience.

Sincerely,

Tom McCulloch
Director of Marketing & Conference Services
