To whom it may concern,

When I saw Randall Munson for the first time at the EDGE EMEA conference in London, I was blown away by his keynote address. The response was immediate, resounding, and universal. He related to people from countries throughout Europe. His message resonated with every attendee. I knew immediately that I had to bring him to New Orleans for our U.S. conference.

Once again, Randall hit a home run with the entire audience. The written evaluations confirmed the response that was obvious in every face in the audience. Everyone wanted more from Randall; they resoundingly said they want him to come back!

I was the hero for bringing Randall Munson to the conference.

If you are looking for a keynote speaker that everyone in the US and Europe will love, I know the one you are looking for: Randall Munson.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "S. Barr". The signature is written in a cursive, slightly stylized font.
