To Whom It May Concern:

When we decided to raise our annual DPS Distribution Seminar to the next level of excellence, we looked to Randall Munson to be our opening keynote speaker. We had seen Randall present at a major technology conference in Indianapolis, where he brought down the house with his presentations. We decided to invest in Randall's program - and we're glad we did!

Our attendees are experienced "C-level" executives who are not easily impressed. We needed an extraordinary speaker to open our two-day seminar that would accomplish three things:

1. Make them glad they came.
2. Give them solid business insights they will use.
3. Open their eyes to new possibilities - such as those our products provide.

Randall Munson surpassed our expectations. He accomplished all of our objectives while entertaining and motivating our customers.

If you are looking for a world-renowned speaker that will turn your meeting into a memorable special event, hire Randall Munson. He changed the way we think.

Kind regards,
