To Whom It May Concern:

We were honored to have Randall Munson address the International Congress of Talent in Puerto Vallarta, Mexico. This is a major international conference of educators in Mexico.

Randall Munson shared his innovative ideas in a lively, magical, fun-filled program that was the highlight of the entire conference. He showed us how to renew our own creativity and how to keep creativity alive in our educational methods and in our students.

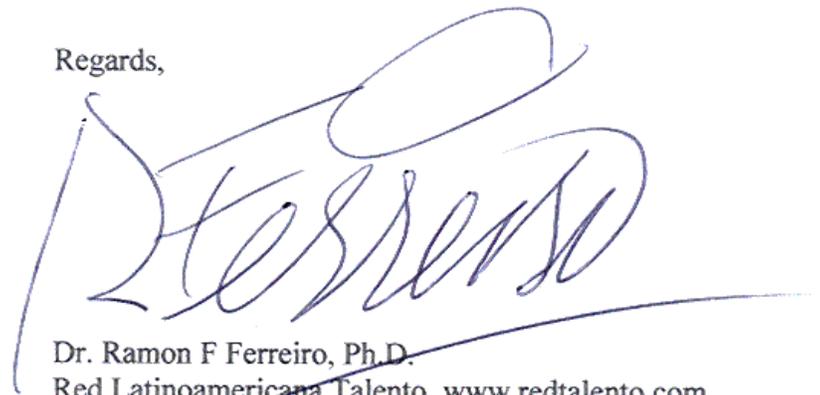

Dr. Luis Alberto Machado, Venezuela's Minister for the Development of Intelligence, said this about Randall Munson: "Your statements are absolutely profound. Yet, you made it easy for everyone to understand and apply. Your use of magic, comedy, and illustrations made an enormous impact that no one will ever forget. Nobody else could have made such a profound presentation in such a vibrant, animated, energetic way."

Randall Munson's highly animated and likable style connected with every person from every country. Even though many of our delegates heard Randall's program through a translator, there was no difficulty clearly understanding the brilliant ideas he shared with us. It was obvious from the spontaneous, prolonged standing ovation they gave Randall, that everyone loved his powerful message and his dynamic presentation. In fact, 100% of our delegates said we should have Randall Munson return to deliver another keynote address for the international congress.

No matter the country, no matter the language, Randall Munson communicates the truth of his brilliant insights.

I urge you to feature Randall Munson at your event. Every attendee will thank you.
